On April 5, 1967, source advised the Zigonhette game at 15 East Delaware was operating last Sunday afternoon. He learned LARRY "THE HOOD" FRANK ORLANDO, and [redacted] were in attendance. [redacted] allegedly won about $500. Source stated entrance to this game can be observed from one of the rear booths in Carton's Restaurant which is diagonally across the street. He said [redacted] frequents the Banquet on Bun and is a close associate of OBBIE FRABOTTA, a well-known hoodlum.

b6
b7D

On April 7, 1967, source advised he had learned the ROSS PRIO group was attempting to secure a foothold for gambling in LaPorte, Indiana. He said attempts had been made to reach JOHN DALEY, District Attorney, and CLIFF ARNOLD, Sheriff. Source stated he did not know whether these efforts had been successful, however, he stated there are punch boards in various taverns and in different stores where one can win money or prizes. The United Cigar Store in the square at LaPort about one-half block from Lincolnwood Avenue is a candy store that has punch boards on the counter and the operators are also bookmakers and claim to have gambling stamps. Every Friday and Saturday a poker game flourishes here.

Source further learned ROSS PRIO and FIFI BUCCIERI are supposed to have two counties in Indiana, one of which is Porter County which is next to LaPorte and one other county which is on the Illinois border, probably Lake County.

Source learned from DOMINICK DI BELLA that on one occasion when someone had attempted to bribe Sheriff CLIFF ARNOLD, who has held this position for about twelve years, the Sheriff entrapped this person, arrested him, and put him in jail. Source understands both the Sheriff and District Attorney are leary of the Chicago syndicate and he believes it is possible the sheriff and district attorney may have had some dealings with local gamblers to permit the current condition.

Source also advised on April 7, 1967, that at 10:30 AM this day there was a meeting at Sunshine's Restaurant in Niles, Illinois, of the following:

[redacted] b7D

ROSS PRIO
DOMINICK DI BELLA
JOE "CAESAR" DI VARCO
TONY MACK

Source was unable to learn the nature of this meeting but was aware that they were together at this time.

Source learned that DOMINICK NUCCIO is back from Florida and is now residing at the Webster Hotel.

Source also advised that JOE ARNOLD's Shirt Shop at 900 North State Street continues to be a gathering place for near north side hoodlums. He stated on April 7, 1967, he observed the following individuals frequenting this location: b6 b7C b7D

DOMINICK NUCCIO
JOE DI VARCO
[redacted]
[redacted] LNU

Concerning DOMINICK "NAGS" BRANCATO, source related he has been eating at Carmen Milanos, 951 North State, Chicago, and was there on April 7, 1967.

DETAILS:

Gambling

CG T-1 advised that a gambling room is being outfitted at 15 East Delaware Place, Chicago, Illinois, first floor and consideration is being given to calling the location the Delaware Athletic Club (DAC).

CG T-1 advised that [redacted] is running the gambling at this location which consists of various card games including knock rummy, high spade and zigonette. b6 b7C b7D

On March 12, 1967, BRADI played zigonette at above gambling room and reportedly won $1200.

CG T-3 advised that [redacted] works for BRADI in connection with operating BRADI's sneak gambling games. In the past [redacted] has been meeting with BRADI's associate, MICHAEL GLITTA at Cartons Restaurant, Maryland Hotel, 900 North Rush Street, Chicago, around 8 o'clock in the morning.

CG T-3 advised that individuals operating in the ROSS PRIO Club on Chicago's near north side are organizing a club to be named the DAC and are considering a location for this club on East Delaware Place, Chicago. This club is considering obtaining a charter which will be similar to that of the old Rambler Athletic Club.

CG T-1 advised that BRADI and FRANK ORLANDO, a close gambling associate, attended the zigonette game at the DAC on April 5, 1967. It was reported that [redacted] was also in the game and won about $500. b6 b7C b7D

CG T-4 advised that JOSEPH ARNOLD who has responsibility for handling matters in the Rush Street area for the ROSS PRIO Club suspects that the FBI may have knowledge of the location of the zigonette game handled on weekends at the DAC and that the FBI may be waiting until some important hoodlums enter the premises so that the local police can be notified and a raid conducted. ARNOLD reportedly has instructed that BRADI and ORLANDO visited the DAC infrequently in order not to bring heat on same.

CG T-4 advised that on April 9, 1967, approximately 20 individuals were at the zigonette game at the DAC at about 6:30 a.m. Among those in attendance were bartenders, local characters from the Rush Street area and pimps who operate in that area. The house reserves 5% of the winnings from the gambling taking place at the DAC.

Raid At DAC

On May 5, 1967, Vice Officer [redacted] 18th District, Chicago Police Department, advised SA [redacted] that the zigonette game at the DAC was raided by his group at 6:30 a.m. on May 4, 1967. Twelve individuals were arrested and charged with gambling. b6 b7C

CG T-4 advised that BRADI just missed being arrested at the raid of the zigonette game at the DAC on May 4, 1967. FRANK ORLANDO and [redacted], close associates of BRADI, were arrested in this raid.

Hoodlum Function

Captain [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, advised on April 6, 1967, that BRADI, a near north side juice enforcer was in attendance at the Santa Fe Saddle and Gun Club dinner dance held March 25, 1967, at the Edgewater Beach Hotel. The affair was organized by FIORE BUCCIERI a top echelon crime syndicate figure and was attended by many well-known hoodlum figures from the Chicago area.

DIRECTOR, FBI 6/[illegible]/68

SAC, [redacted] (P) b6 b7C b7D

TECIP

Re Chicago airtel to Bureau dated 5/21/68.

PC was interviewed at the United States Penitentiary, Terre Haute, Indiana, on May 29, 1968. The interview was conducted under secure conditions. PC was very concerned regarding furnishing information in view of his being compromised; however, he stated after being incarcerated for more than six months and after having given considerable thought to his involvement in gambling and hoodlum-type matters, he wanted to "change" and cooperate with the FBI. He furnished the following pertinent information:

Since becoming an adult, he has been involved in racket-type activity primarily in the SCAM, juice, and gambling fields. He was active until leaving for the penitentiary in [redacted] [redacted]

Wire room operations on Chicago's North Side are controlled by ROSS PRIO. Working under PRIO in this capacity are LEONARD PATRICK, JOSEPH DI VARCO, [redacted] who is the "brains" behind the bookmaking operation. There are three large bookmaking offices handling sports and horse bets on the North Side which are controlled by [redacted] who handles the sheets for same. [redacted] is assisted by [redacted] (LNU), (probably [redacted] operates one of the offices. [redacted] was shut down during the latter part of 1967; however, he re-opened shortly before PC left for prison. b6 b7C b7D

These offices move their locations on a monthly basis and sooner if they receive information that their security is jeopardized. Sergeant [redacted] of the Chicago Police Department, currently assigned to Area 6, Burglary, handles the security for the offices and also arranges for telephones and does wire tapping for the office operations. [redacted] has been a close friend of [redacted] and [redacted] for several years. Each office pays [redacted] $500 a month for his services.

These offices do not handicap bets but use the various odds provided by the wire services and odds makers. [redacted] primarily works for DI VARCO and [redacted] making collections and payoffs for the offices, and in addition also collects juice. [redacted], who has long been close to [redacted] handles bookmaking accounts for same and also assists in bankrolling their operation.

On-track bookmaking in Chicago is controlled by [redacted] who are brothers. During the off season in Chicago, the [redacted] go to the Florida tracks.

b6
b7D

In connection with PC's operation of El Greco's Steak Room in the Rush Street area in 1967, PC stated that operation belonged to [redacted] and his brother [redacted] and himself. After losing the liquor license for same, they made every effort to obtain a new one and "offered the moon" to officials at the Liquor Commission to no avail. This request was refused because of the notoriety given same by [redacted] reporter for the "Chicago Tribune." The Corporation Counsel's Office for the City of Chicago, and the licensing head of same, [redacted] who is the mayor's administrative assistant, have accepted unbelievable sums of money for granting licenses for businesses in the City of Chicago and especially liquor licenses. It is not uncommon that $3,000 to $4,000 is paid to same for a favorable recommendation on a license. PC stated [redacted] must be worth a bundle of money for all he has taken in connection with same. Also, in the event difficulties are encountered in obtaining a license, Alderman [redacted] who is Mayor RICHARD J. DALEY right-hand man, is the individual who can "swing" any license request. In addition, there is an Illinois Senator who is frequently utilized to obtain favors for an appropriate sum.

PC stated that [redacted] is in regular contact with SAM GIANCANA who now resides in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

[redacted] b7D

[redacted] is a front for FELIX ALDERISIO and fronted the "Whiskey A-Go-Go" on Rush Street for him prior to its closing.

PC stated that Casanova's on Rush Street is actually owned by FRANK BUCCIERI. The Cat's Eye in the Rush Street area is owned by [redacted] and JOE FERRIOLA also has money in same. Bourbon Street on Rush Street is owned by KEN ETO. The Mini in the Rush Street area is owned by [redacted] spends most of his time operating the Mini and assisting DI VARCO and JOSEPH ARNOLD in the operation of Shirts Unlimited. [redacted] was formerly influential in connection with racket activities in being a collector and muscle man, but he no longer has the authority he once had. JOSEPH ARNOLD primarily handles juice activities for DI VARCO, and in addition assists in taking care of the clubs in the Rush Street area. b6 b7C b7D

The Antipasto Restaurant in the Rush Street area is owned by DI VARCO. The Kettle in the Rush Street area is owned by [redacted]

The Rush Currency Exchange on Rush Street was originally started by PRIO but all activity there is now handled by [redacted] is not involved in racket activities but does handle the exchange of money for bookmaking and juice activities as a service to PRIO.

LAWRENCE BRADI is used by the PRIO group to collect gambling and juice debts. MICHAEL GLITTA, who maintains a good relationship with PRIO, is involved in some juice activities and can operate anywhere on the North Side because of this association.

Prostitution is no longer controlled by the hoodlum element as in the past, and it is now referred to as outlaw activity and open to those interested in same without control being exerted over same.

During the interview with PC which lasted approximately one hour and 15 minutes, PC was noticeably nervous and obviously reluctant to go into detail regarding his knowledge of hoodlum matters due to his fear of being compromised. PC stated it was not easy to change his attitude after all these years and that he would be the last individual to be suspect by the hoodlum element. His statement in the past to questions by law enforcement officers has always been "no comment," and he has never given anyone any indication otherwise until now. PC stated he trusts no one except possibly his wife, and if he can be assured of his information not coming back to him, he will furnish additional material.

PC stated he has always been considered a member of the outfit and privy to most of the activity involving same, even though he is only [redacted] years of age. PC stated if he were on the street he is positive he could furnish information which the FBI is not aware of concerning racket activity. He has made up his mind after sitting in prison that he wants to do something for the FBI as a matter of justification and feels certain he can furnish information under proper guidance which will lead to the conviction of influential hoodlum leaders such as AIDERISIO, DI VARCO, [redacted] PC stated [redacted] given him regarding this matter. PC stated he has committed himself to working for the FBI and he will not go back on his word if he can be assured information furnished by him will not compromise himself. He stated at this time he could not testify concerning any matter which he might be aware of as it would be certain death for himself and/or his family. b7D

It would appear PC offers ideal potential in instant program once he is back on the street. The Bureau will be advised of further developments concerning this matter.

For the information of the Chicago Office, [redacted] under the name of [redacted] could not work as a bartender either in Las Vegas or in Clark County without first obtaining a work permit. The work permit application requires that the individual submitting such application be fingerprinted by the issuing agency and such fingerprints are submitted to the Identification Division. It is conceivable that [redacted] may be working on the sly as a bartender; however, this is highly unlikely, as both the Las Vegas PD and the Clark County SO run periodic checks to see that all individuals working in the liquor and/or gambling industry have work permits.

In view of the above, no further investigation isbbeing conducted by Las Vegas.

A Deadbeat: This item should be of great interest to the thousands of taxpayers who stood in long lines last week to beat the state and city deadlines for affixing license plates and city vehicle stickers to their cars.

Larry [The Hood] Buonaguidi, prominent among north side gamblers, had just left Gangster Joey DiVarco's Shirts Unlimited shop when he was arrested by intelligence division detectives on a variety of traffic charges. Buonaguidi, it developed, didn't have the required $30 city vehicle sticker glued to the windshield of his gleaming late model Oldsmobile. But he did have $608 in greenbacks in his pocket.

Then later, in a rare burst of candor, Buonaguidi let police know just how he feels about the suckers that work for a living. At the age of 49, he gave his employment status as retired. And when he was asked when he had last worked, Buonaguidi replied: "When I was an altar boy." There's probably a moral to all of this, but somehow it escapes us!

PC stated RAPLH SCACCIA, who operates the Stork Lounce, is a "misfit" and has no friends. He is a loner.

Source advised he had learned that MIKE GLITTA and LARRY "The Hood" BUONEGUIDI had recently been sent to Arlington Race Track to ascertain what bookmakers were currently booking on the track. A complaint apparently had been made by someone who had placed a $400 bet on a daily double, which they won and that they now had approximately $16,000 due. The party apparently was complaining of non-payment to ROSS PRIO who ordered an investigation. Upon checking into this matter, GLITTA and LARRY "The Hood" learned that a heist man, who had in his possession approximately $50,000, had been placing bets with JOE and JAMES ALTIERI at Arlington Race Track. While at Arlington they placed a $400 bet on the daily double at Washington Park, which bet won. The ALTIERI brothers claimed they had past posted and refused to pay the bet. When the ALTIERI brothers were confronted by GLITTA and BUONEGUIDI they told them that they were syndicate connected and that GLITTA and BUONEGUIDI should get their representative and meet with them at their place on Taylor Street. Thereafter, JOSEPH DI VARCO, representing ROSS PRIO for GLITTA and BUONEGUIDI, appeared at Taylor Street location and met with the ALTIERI brothers. Arriving there he learned that a FIFI BUCCIERI was the sponsor of the ALTIERI brothers and that because the individuals placing the bet with the ALTIERI brothers was not connected with the outfit, it was ruled that he should not be paid.

According to source because of the ALTIERI brothers' connection with FIFI BUCCIERI, who was in a much higher position in the syndicate than DI VARCO, no protest was made to this decision.

He was arrested on September 13, 1969, along with seven other members of the post who were alleged to be gambling, according to the original testimony of Chicago Police Officers who raided same. Contrary to what the police officers stated, he was not playing cards at the time, however, six individuals were playing short cards at the time. [redacted] stated that BRADI, who was one of the individuals arrested, has been a member of the post for six months and visits the post on about a weekly basis. He did not know BRADI prior to his becoming a member of the post, nor did he know anything about BRADI's background. The other individuals arrested are also members of the post and frequently visit same to play cards.

[redacted] stated he does not gamble and is not in- b6
volved in any hoodlum or criminal matters. He has worked b7C
